2. In actuality, [REDACTED] appointment has not been satisfactory either to me or to [REDACTED]. I believe that his assignment to D/I was the result of a honest misunderstanding on his part concerning the sort of work for which he was being considered. I have come to the conclusion that [REDACTED] would make a real contribution in one of the operational phases of the Agency's work. He does not have an interest in research and his work, particularly during the first seven or eight months following his E.O.D., purely reflects his lack of interest.

3. Following the completion of additional education, Mr. [REDACTED] intimated that he hopes to reapply to the Agency. If so, he should be considered for operational work but not for research.
